From the Amst. & Leid. Gaz. dated Dec. 18 & 19.

Venice, December 3 & 6.

THE Count d'Althain, Ayde de Camp to the King of the Romans, pass'd through this Place some days ago, in his way to Piemont, whither he is gone to carry the Duke of Savoy the News of the taking of Landau, and that Prince Eugene is on his March through Bavaria, to come into Italy with a Reinforcement of 15000 Men. We have Advice from the Bressan, that the Marquis Davia is dead at Salo of the Wound he receiv'd in a late Action, (mention'd in one of our former;) His Death is extremely lamented by the Count de Leiningen, and generally by all those who were acquainted with his Worth, and his great Skill in the Art of War. He has left 2000 Ducats to the Hospital of the German Soldiers, and 200 to the Capuchins of Brescia.

From the Amsterdam Courant, &c. dated Dec. 20.

Vienna, Dec. 6. The 3d instant being the Festival of St. Francis Xavier, the Emperor went to the Jesuites College to be present at a solemn Service that was perform'd in their Chappel on that Occasion; and was taken ill there, continues indispos'd, and his Physicians report is in a weak Condition. Artillery is drawn out of our Arsenal and plac'd on the Walls, to salute the King of the Romans upon his Arrival; And Te Deum will then be sung for the taking of Landau. 'Tis said his Queen will set out from hence the 12th to meet him at Neuhaus in Bohemia. Prince Ragorski and Count Berezeni having Intelligence that General Heister had pass'd the Marck with a Body of Troops, and was in Motion towards the Waag, drew together their Forces that lay scatter'd near the Waag, and form'd a Body of 20000 Men to oppose him; whereupon General Heister judging it too hazardous to venture an Engagement with them, retir'd, and waits to be joyn'd by the Regiments of Cusani and Darmstadt.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Dec. 19.

Vienna, Dec. 6. The Regiments of Cusani and Darmstadt, which were expected here some days ago, have been retarded in their March by bad Weather: But Orders are sent to them to make what haste they can, to joyn General Heister, who has been oblig'd to retire from the Frontiers of Hungary, and intrench himself behind the Marck, fearing to be surrounded by the Army of the Malecontents that advanc'd towards him. An Express that arriv'd here yesterday confirms, that he was still near the Marck waiting for the Regiments that are on the March to joyn him.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Dec. 20.

Vienna, Dec. 11. 'Tis advis'd from Hungary, that the Malecontents, upon General Heister's advancing towards them, broke up with Precipitation from before Leopoldstad; but that having drawn all their Forces together they made up an Army of 30000 Men; whereupon General Heister retir'd, and waiting till he is reinforce'd, has intrench'd himself near the Marck. Orders are sent to the Troops that are marching, to make all the Expedition they can to joyn him.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Dec. 19.

Letters from Ratibon of the 11th of December, tell us the Treaty with the Electors of Bavaria, concluded in the Camp before Landau the 7th of November, and since ratified by his Imperial Majesty, consisted in substance of the following Articles, I. That all the fortified Places of Bavaria, with the Arcenals, Artillery, Ammunition, &c. should be put into the Hands of his Imperial Majesty. II. That the Bavarian Troops should be disbanded, and left at Liberty to enter into the Emperor's Service, or to return to their Homes upon Promise not to serve against the Emperor and the Empire. III. That the 18th of November, Ingolstadt, Kuffstein, and the Castle of Neubourg on the Inn, should be put into the Hands of the Emperor, with their Magazines, Cannon, Ammunition, &c. IV. That whatever had been brought out of Tyrol into Bavaria, should be restor'd. V. That the Imperial and Bavarian Prisoners should be discharged on both sides, the latter under a Promise not to serve against the Emperor. VI. That the City of Munich and its Dependancies should remain in the Possession of the Electors, all save what is excepted by this Treaty. VII. That the new Fortifications made at Munich since the Year 1700, should be demolish'd, and the Artillery, Ammunitions and Magazines, yielded up to the Emperor. VIII. That the Electors should be allow'd a Guard of 400 Men, to be chosen from among the disbanded Troops. IX. That the Annual Revenue of the Electors, and the Offices of the Country should be regulated by his Imperial Majesty. X. That when the Treaty should be executed, if the Electors should desire to leave the Country, necessary Passports should be given her. XI. That the Estates of Bavaria should be preserv'd in their Privileges. XII. That the Ratification should be exchange'd on both sides within a certain number of days, the Electors promising that in the mean time no Hostilities should be committed against the Emperor and Empire; and that Commerce should be open between the Subjects of both Parties.

The same Letters add, that the Garrison of Ingolstadt evacuated that Place the 8th instant, and that 4 Imperial Regiments are entred into it. That the French who came out with the Bavarian Garrison, having receiv'd all their Arrears, are march'd towards Strasbourg: But the Bavarians, having receiv'd but 3 Months Arrears, are put into the Villages of the Territory of Munich, till they are paid all the rest. All that was taken from the City of Ausburg and carried into Bavaria, will be restor'd to that City.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Dec. 18.

Ratibon, Dec. 11. The Bavarians garrison'd in Landshut having mutinied, have plunder'd 2 Convents, and put the Subdean of the Chapter of that Place under Confinement: They likewise refuse to evacuate the Place, unless they are first paid all their Arrears; But Prince Eugene of Savoy, having put a sufficient Garrison of Imperialists into Ingolstadt, is march'd directly to Landshut, with General Herbeville and a strong Body of Troops, to bring the Mutineers to Reason.

From the Camp before Traerbach, Dec. 12. The Baron de Trogne was kill'd the 10th instant: There are but 2 Ingenieurs left in a Condition to act, the rest being either kill'd or wounded; so that the Hereditary Prince of Hesse Cassel has stop'd Monsieur des Roques and 3 other Ingenieurs, who were passing this way to Trier, to employ them in the Siege. Monsieur de Baar, Governour of the Castle, died 10 days ago of a Wound he had receiv'd. We hope to be Masters of the Place in 4 or 5 days.

Paris, Dec. 15. They write from Lombardy, that since the Grand Prior of France possess'd himself of Dezenzano on the Lake of Garda, he has caus'd several Barks to be arm'd, to cut off the Communication of the Germans with the Country of Trent, whence they are supplied with Provisions.

As for the Siege of Verue, it will last much longer than was expected; because the Besiegers are oblig'd to go on by Sapping, and because the Place is defended by a triple Intrenchment, and girt with a double Wall.

The Advices from Spain of the 27th of November import, that all things were ready for an Assault to be made upon Gibraltar; but that it was suppos'd the Marquis de Villadarias would defer it, till the Squadron commanded by the Baron de Pointis was arriv'd in the Bay. So that we impatiently expect the Arrival of the next Courier, to know what has pass'd there.

We have confirm'd Advice by the way of Venice, that the Grand Vizier is depos'd, and that the Basha of Candia or Crete is promoted to his Place. This latter has promis'd the Deputies of Prince Ragotski, that he will shortly cause some Troops to march into Hungary, to put the said Prince into Possession of the Principality of Transilvania.

We have Intelligence from Turin, that the Duke of Savoy is return'd thither from Chivazzo; which Place will not be fortified as was design'd. General Staremberg having design'd to put a German Garrison into the Citadel of Turin, this Royal Highness refus'd it. And no foreign Soldiers are now permitted to set Foot in that Citadel.

Hague, Dec. 18. An Express that arriv'd last Night from the Camp before Traerbach, brought Advice, that the Baron de Trogne was kill'd the 10th instant with a Musquet shot, as he was giving Directions for digging a Mine. But that he had advanc'd the Works so far, that it was believ'd the Garrison could hold out but a very few days longer; their Governour and the next Officer under him being kill'd, and the rest being at Variance among themselves. The Marshal de Tallard, and other General Officers of the French taken Prisoners at Bleinheim, were expected at Rotterdam to day, in order to be embark'd for England.
